

Novel Coronavirus (Covid-19)

Dear Parents/Carers,

Following a small number of enquiries we are writing to provide you with a general update on the developments in the Novel Coronavirus (Covid-19) outbreak. DASH continues to closely monitor the regular guidance from Public Health England and Wales, other government organisations.

I am sure you will be aware of the recent concentrations of infection in Northern Italy and the further incidents across Europe and other parts of the world. Public Health England is providing very clear guidance and advice to people who have recently travelled to infected areas. If any members of your household have recently travelled overseas to these areas, please observe the guidance on the PHE website which is regularly updated here.

DASH will maintain all activities unless the advice from Public Health suggests otherwise. We continue with our high hygiene standards regarding the equipment we use and personal hygiene of staff to minimise the spread of all germs. We would ask that you follow the guidance of Public Health on how to minimise your own risk of infection.

We thank you for your continued support. We have provided some helpful links below:
